PLAYING STYLE AND PERSONALITY

Andreea Dragoman plays a right-handed shakehand grip with a tactical, attacking style. Her game emphasizes variation in placement and tempo, making her effective in constructing points and exploiting opponent weaknesses, particularly in doubles and team formats. Known as a reliable and team-focused competitor, Dragoman has earned repeated selection for Romania's national team in major events. Her consistent performances in doubles reflect strong coordination, adaptability, and a selfless playing spirit valued in team competitions.

BREAKTHROUGH MOMENTS AND ACHIEVEMENTS

CAREER

Born on 18 August 2000 in Mediaș, Romania, Andreea Dragoman rose to prominence with a bronze medal at the 2018 Youth Olympic Games. She has since developed into a reliable member of the Romanian senior team, consistently selected for European and World competitions.

In 2025, Dragoman captured the Belgium Open Women's Singles title – a major individual milestone – and contributed to Romania's silver-medal run at the European Team Championships. At the national level, she won gold in women's doubles and two bronze medals (singles and mixed) at the Romanian Championships. Her growing presence on the WTT circuit, including quarterfinal runs and regular main draw appearances, reflects steady progress toward the international elite.

LEGACY AND FUTURE GOALS

As of late 2025, Dragoman is increasingly seen as a key contributor to Romania's women's team – both in team events and doubles partnerships – while also gaining ground as a singles contender. With her first international senior title now secured, her next goals likely include further climbing the ITTF world rankings, deeper runs in WTT Contender and Star Contender events, and qualification for upcoming World Championships and Olympic Games.
