PLAYING STYLE AND PERSONALITY

Andrej Gaćina is a right-handed offensive player using the shakehand grip. His game is built around powerful forehand loops, fast footwork, and the ability to control rallies from mid-distance. He plays with a Butterfly Viscaria blade paired with Dignics 09C rubber on both forehand and backhand, supporting his aggressive and balanced approach. On court, he is known for his discipline, resilience, and consistency against top opponents. Off the table, Gaćina is widely respected for his professionalism and leadership within the Croatian team. He has long served as a role model for younger players, combining quiet determination with a strong work ethic.

CAREER

Born in Zadar, Croatia, Andrej Gaćina began playing table tennis at a young age and moved to Zagreb at 12 to access better training conditions. He launched his professional career in 2000 with STK Zadar and went on to compete for top clubs across Europe, including in Italy, Greece, Russia, the Czech Republic, and Belgium. A right-handed attacking player, Gaćina has been a pillar of the Croatian national team, representing his country at five Olympic Games (2008, 2012, 2016, 2020, 2024) and collecting numerous titles and podium finishes over two decades. In 2025, he remained a key figure in both national and club competitions—playing for Olympiacos in the Europe Cup cycle and representing Croatia at the European Team Championships in Zadar and the Mixed Team World Cup in Chengdu.

LEGACY AND FUTURE GOALS

As of December 2025, Andrej Gaćina stands as one of Croatia's most respected and enduring table tennis players. His legacy is marked by Olympic longevity, a European title in men's doubles, and club victories across the continent. In 2025, his leadership role in Croatian team events and ongoing contributions in European club competitions further cemented his status. Looking ahead, Gaćina aims to continue competing internationally, support Croatia's team campaigns, and eventually transition into mentorship or coaching roles to help shape the next generation of Croatian talent.
